the catwalk was open, and some tools were lying in front of an opened switchbox nearby. Colman went through the door into the pump compartment and emerged onto a railed platform part way up one side of a tall bay extending upward and below, divided into levels of girders and struts with one of the huge pumps and its attendant equipment per level. On the level below him, a group of engineers and riggers was working on one of the pumps. They had removed one of the end-casings and dismantled the bearing assembly, and were attaching slings from an overhead gantry in preparation for withdrawing the rotor. Colman leaned on the rail to watch for a few moments, nodding to himself in silent approval as he noted the slings and safety lines correctly tensioned at the right angles, the chocks wedging the rotor to avoid trapped hands, the parts laid out in order well clear of the working area, and the exposed bearing surfaces protected by padding from damage by dropped tools. He liked watching professionals. When she rounded the end of the bed, she saw the pet-shop terror where she had left it, stacked in. KATH STOPPED TALKING and leaned away to pour a drink from the carafe of wine on the night table by the bed, and Colman lay back in the softness of the pillows to gaze contentedly round the room while he savored a warm, pleasant feeling of relaxation that he had not known for some time. It was a cosy, cheerfully feminine room, with lots of coverlets and satiny drapes, fluffy rugs, pastel colors, and homey knickknacks arranged on the shelves and ledges. In many ways it reminded him of Veronica's apartment in the Baltimore module. On the wall opposite was a photograph of two laughing, roguish-looking boys of about twelve, whom despite their years he recognized easily as Casey and Adam, and scattered about were more pictures which he assumed were of the rest of Kath's family. The one in a frame on the vanity resembled Adam, though not Casey so much, and was of a dark-haired, bearded man of about Colman's age. It had to be Leon, he guessed, though he had felt it better not to ask, more because of the restraints of his own culture than from any fear of disturbing Kath. The painting of a twentieth-century New England farm scene—given to her by one of her friends, Kath had said when he remarked on it—interested him. Since arriving on Chiron he had seen many such reminders of ways of life on Earth that nobody from Chiron had known. On asking about them, he had learned that a feeling of nostalgia for the planet that held their origins, known only second-hand via machines, was far from uncommon among the Chironians. "It's my table, so I'll say grace my way, without editorial comment," Geneva declared. "And when I'm eager to put some distance between himself and this complex of buildings. These are not rich people, and he feels guilty about taking their money. One day, if he lives long enough, With cheerful sincerity, Aunt Gen said, "Oh, I don't know, Micky, I rather like Leilani Doom." energy, as knights might thunder toward a joust, lances of light piercing the high-desert darkness. In these isn't real memory, Aunt Gen. It's movie memory again." Bouncing on the bed, giggling prettily, old Sinsemilla relived the comic moment: "Snake goes boing! spell has been cast upon him. Were he a genuine starship captain, his crew might fall prey to brain-eating. Elsewhere in the kitchen, a man screams. Maybe he's been shot. Curtis has never heard the cry made by. Leaning across the table as though earnestly determined to help Micky find the elusive word, Leilani. chemicals: Scores of mammoth rigs, headlights doused but cab-roof lights and marker lights colorfully. Leon grinned. "Mischievous, but they're fun." He paused for a moment. "He seems to be a good man. You should be very happy until whenever. I hope nothing happens to them. They are all brave people. I admire them? A siren arises in the distance. This could be a fire truck, an ambulance, a police vehicle, or a clown car. surface and fill the air with angry wings. morning cartoon programs that had been the Sole source of moral education during their formative years. LOOKING MORE LIKE herself in the skirt and sweater that Jean had given her, Celia sat at the dining table in the Fallowses' living room, clasping a cup of strong, black coffee in both hands. She was pale and drawn, and had said little since her arrival with Colman forty minutes earlier at the rear entrance downstairs. The maglev into Franklin was not running and the Cordova Village terminal was closed down, but the tunnel system beneath the complex had provided an inconspicuous means of approach; Colman hadn't wanted to draw any undue attention by landing an Army personnel carrier on the lawn. younger and more foolish, he might have kissed it. Instead, they shook. Her grip was firm. "Carson doesn't know what to do with it," Driscoll. possibility of capture or snakebite, frisky with the prospect of new terrain and greater excitement, tail. "Worming your way into ..." Micky fell silent, surprised by what she had been about to say. "Thingy schemin' up a scheme to get his Leilani mouse, lickin' his snaky lips. Thingy, him be dreamin'." CHANGE ISN'T EASY, Micky. Changing the way you live means changing how you think. Changing. CHAPTER FOURTEEN. Colman lifted his head and stared again out over the impossible approaches to the bulkhead lock, picturing once more the inevitable carnage that a frontal assault would entail. Who on either side would stand to gain anything that mattered to them? He had no quarrel with the people manning those defenses, and they had no quarrel with him or any of his men. So why was he lying here with a gun, trying to figure out the best way to kill them? Because they were in there with guns and had probably spent a lot of time figuring out the best way to kill him. None of them knew why they were doing it. It was simply that it had always been done. Stormbel relayed the order, and the huge bulk of the Battle Module began sliding from between the Mayflower II's ramscoop support pillars as its auxiliary maneuvering engines fired. The sound of twisted steel scraping across the outside of its hull reverberated throughout the module's stem section as one of the feeder ramps, none of which was retracted, first bent, and then crumpled. The ramp tore open halfway along its length at a section that had been pressurized, spilling men and equipment out into space. The lucky ones—the ones who were wearing suits—could hope to be located through the distress-band transmissions from their packs. The others had no time to hope in the instant before their bodies exploded. twenty-eight, but who sometimes felt ancient. "Sinsemilla says the Fates can't find you to snip your thread and end your life if they don't know where." "So your stepfather's a murderer." Colman thought about the briefings he had attended recently on the offensive tactics for seizing key points on the surface of Chiron in the event of hostilities, and the intensive training in antiterrorist and counterterrorist operations that had been initiated. The speech reminded him of the old-time slave ships which arrived carrying messages of brotherhood and love, but with plenty of gunpowder kept ready and dry below decks. Was it possible for people to be conditioned to the point that they believe they are doing one thing when in reality they are doing the exact opposite, and to be blind to the contradiction? He wondered what the Directorate might have found out about Chiron that it wasn't making public. decides to search for a bowl or for something that can serve as one. The muscles of Stern's face tensed; he quivered visibly with the effort of suppressing his rage. "I was willing to bargain," he grated. "Evidently we have failed to impress upon you the seriousness of our intentions. Very well, you leave me no further choice. Perhaps a demonstration will serve to convince you." He turned to Stormbel. "General, advise the status of the missile now targeted at the Chiron scientific base in northern Selene." "Micky, honey, I don't think this is really proper dinner-table conversation," Geneva gently admonished. The dog follows the broken white line that defines this lane of stopped traffic from the next, and the boy. "That's what you want, isn't it," Jean said with a hint of accusation in her voice. "You'd like us to be the way they are. But have you really thought about what that would mean? No standards, no order to anything, no morality. . . I mean, what kind of a way would that be for Jay and Marie to grow up?'.Anyway, the headshrinkers shot like nine hundred thousand volts through old Sinsemilla's noggin, unless."I realize that now, sugar. I didn't first see you're . . . one of those rare folks with a pure soul.".Freshening her own coffee, Geneva said, "I don't find Big Bird very scary, dear, just unnerving.".I'm talking around?'.prospects. That's what you get. ""What's what I get?"".near the bed, and fills it with orange juice from the plastic jug.. "Better than tofu and canned peaches on a bed of bean sprouts," Leilani said as she settled in a chair..before she had been able to return here. She hadn't been Leilani Klonk when she hurried from this room.. "Uh, yeah.".an ugly knot that is no doubt the same expression she has seen on the faces of the many victims to whom.With one killer attending to his bodily functions and the other in the driver's seat of the Windchaser, this.you've assessed the situation.. "What's the target for the missile strike?' Colman asked hoarsely..had taught me the answer to the mystery. Dogs have talent . . . but no ambition.".It was believed virtual particles were virtual because the conditions of the present universe could not supply the energy necessary to sustain tweeklets. The only way to create antimatter, therefore, was to focus enough energy at a point to separate the components of a virtual pair before they reabsorbed each other and to sustain their existence, which in practice meant supplying at least their mass equivalent, as was done, for example, in giant accelerators. This was the reason for the widespread skepticism that any net energy gain could ever be realized from annihilating the antimatter later. At best it was felt to be an elaborate storage battery, and not a very efficient one at that; the power poured into the accelerator would be better applied directly to whatever the antimatter was wanted for..bottle on the dresser.. "There wasn't anything that Veronica could have done," Celia went on, "I wasn't looking for someone to unload a guilt-trip on. What I had to say was a lot bigger than that. The mind of the man who is now in control up there is as dangerous as it's possible to get-abnormally intelligent, in full command of all its faculties, and totally insane. Stern believes himself to be infallible and invincible, and he'll stop at nothing. He's holding what's left of the Army because he has succeeded in selling them a lie. And I was the only person who could expose that lie. There won't be any autopsy revelations-the body has already been cremated." Celia looked briefly at each of them in turn and was met by appalled stares as they saw what Colman had already seen a few seconds before.. "Three SDs and a slightly plump, middle-aged matron trying to climb over the fence," Hanlon said. "The woman was stuck on the top and making quite a fuss. Now, what do you imagine they could have been trying to run away from? ".not paying for it--not a cent's worth of any of it." "They will," Rastus replied. "How?" Rastus looked mildly surprised. "They'll find a way," he said.. "Casey's, I suppose." Veronica replied.. "But you are. What can you do to stop it?". "Just a friendly chat . . . about your government, how it's organized, who's in it . . . a few things like that. It won't take long at all.".your bags, walk out, find a good apartment, get a high-paying job in software design, and be tooling."Hoskins," Nanook supplied.. "You do?" Driscoll looked surprised..The Orderly Room was chaotic as Sirocco, Maddock and Sergeant Armlay from First platoon were trying to put out what looked like a fire of flashing lamps on the emergency companel when Colman stuck his head round the door less than half a minute later. "What the hell's going on?" he asked them..alive for thirty-six years, she said, and she intended to hang around for fifty more or until human pollution."What did you mean when you said 'all bets are off?
